BHS graduates 395 seniors at Baldwin Wallace College

On June 10, 1974, the Class of '74 bid farewell to Brunswick High School. Some seniors wept, some seniors radiated with pride at having completed twelve years of school, and some seniors impatiently awaited college, a job, or marriage. But all seniors realized that a part of their lives had now slipped into a memory.

Breaking from tradition, the 395 seniors assembled in the Baldwin Wallace Field House in Berea for the first graduation ceremony away from the high school. Tish Kiraly, valedictorian, and Monica Blanda, salutatorian, addressed the Class of '74, and Board President, Mr. Albert Shirer, distributed the anxiously awaited diplomas.

Prom takes on country look as juniors host dance

The 1974 Junior-Senior Prom took place on May 17. Everyone enjoyed going "Out in the Country" for the dance. The Juniors chose the U.A.W. hall in Brookpark as the location for the evening. Music was provided by "Colors."

The Prom was highlighted by the presentation of the court and the crowning of the King and Queen. Prom King Pete Pasko and his Queen Paulette Williams reigned over the dance. Pete and Paulette lead the court dance to the Senior class song "Precious and Few."

Desire among team members brings a year of success

A state cross-country individual championship highlighted the 1973 Blue Devil cross-country season. The squad added another winning season, finishing 8-2 in dual meets. They placed first in such big events as Medina County and Wooster invitationals and second in the Chippewa Conference and the Sectional Meet. Coach Bob Joos lost six seniors with eight remaining harriers returning in 1974.

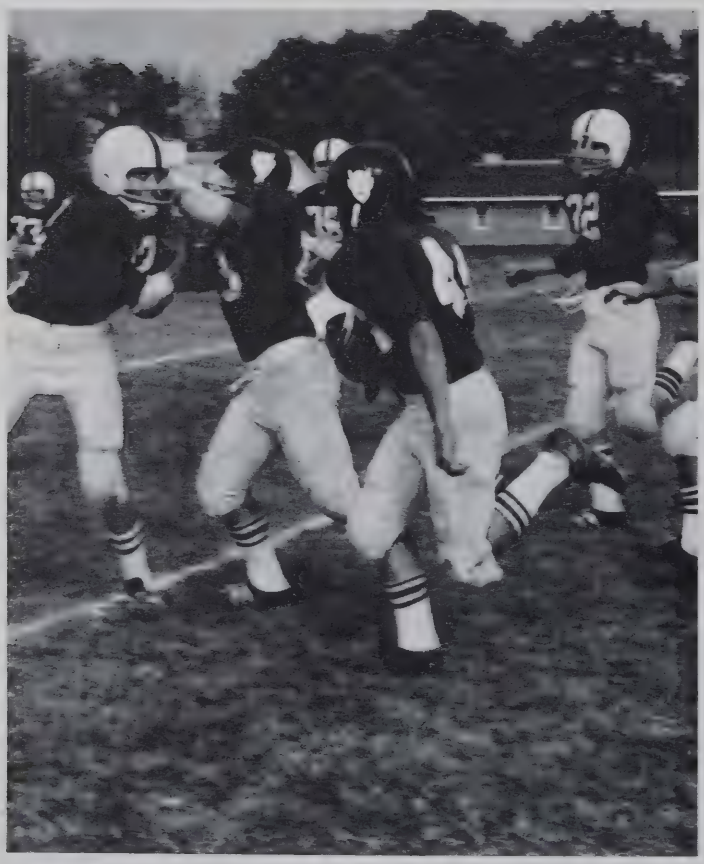
JV, frosh gridders find winning has its rewards



The record setting frosh football team enjoyed a great season under the direction of Coach Richard Nowak. The team finished with a blazing 6-1 record, the best mark ever set by a freshman football team at BHS. The 1-2 running punch of Mark Johnson and Bob Petelin led the team in scoring with Bill Costner at quarterback calling the signals. Nose-guard Fred Vick headed the defense, making it rough going for the opposition.

Grapplers finish season with 8 wins

BHS enjoyed another fine wrestling season under first-year coach Gary Eaton. The grapplers finished with an 8-1-1 campaign.

Highlighting the season was a first place finish in the Chippewa Conference Tournament for the third consecutive year and a second place in both the Brunswick Invitational and sectional tournaments.

Jim Kazee, heavyweight, and Tony Stabile, 155, represented Brunswick at the state meet in Columbus and finished fourth and sixth respectively.

JV posts undefeated season; frosh show future prospects

The 1973-74 junior varsity wrestling team had a very successful season. Under first-year coach Pete Goulis, the grapplers finished with a perfect 8-0 mark and fared well in two post-season junior varsity tournaments.

Juniors Mike Golod and Bob "Bubba" Sprosty led the squad throughout the season with timely victories in their respective weight classes.

Dean Kutz was honored as a Press-star, the team's most valuable player, and also attended an all-star basketball tournament at Padua High School. Senior Joe Cantrell received the Highest Field Goal Percentage trophy, while John Wills took the Most Improved Player trophy and Rusty Rogers gathered the Best Junior award. Seven cagers earned varsity letters, but Coach Schneider will have only two of those lettermen returning for next season.

Devils play shows vast improvement for team

The 1973-74 basketball season was a year of improvement for BHS. The Blue Devils gathered seven victories, surpassing the total of the last two years combined. Coach Jack Schneider guided the Devils over Cloverleaf twice, a feat not done since 1966 and placed fourth in the Chippewa Conference. Captain Dean Kutz finished first in the county scoring while Joe Cantrell placed third and both received post-season all-star honors.

JV squad sports exciting season

Even though the junior varsity record was 5-13 this didn't indicate the season. They had exciting plays from Bob Ramage, John Gordon, Jack Wentz and Rick Andrews kept them in every game. Coach Tim Manco, in his first year, had to rebuild the squad that showed great improvement and poise throughout the season.

Frosh finish 12-4; win Chipp crown

Ending with a 12-4 record, the freshman basketball team turned in the best mark ever by a frosh team at BHS. To go along with that accomplishment, the cagers won their second straight Chippewa Conference championship. John Reece, Mike Masterson, and Kerry Hunter led the team at both ends of the court throughout the season.

Athletic Conference Crown

The Devilettes basketball squad enjoyed another fine season in 1974 by defending their South Suburban Girls' Athletic Association crown with a tie for first place. The team finished with a 9-3 mark and played well in every game. Tri-captains Anita Wiseman, Cheryl Patrick, and Sharon Wills led the team throughout the year. And all members of the team be returning in the fall.

At the team's post-season banquet, Sharon Wills received the most valuable player award and Anita Wiseman gathered the most points trophy.

Dedication, concentration, and desire produce victories

The 1974 varsity golf team was young and inexperienced, but proved that they were winners by posting a 20-5 mark in dual meets. Three-year letterman Kevin Trem and two-year letterman Steve Campbell led the team with consistent scores. Freshmen Tom Campbell and Darren Rabant and juniors Reed Schnittker and Dave Pytel rounded out the victorious squad.

Although Coach Hank Gimbel lost his top two golfers through graduation, he expected three lettermen to return next year. With help from junior varsity golfers, next year's team should have little trouble posting a winning season.

2 individuals compete in state meet to highlight another fine track season

The varsity track team had a fine season, highlighted by sending two individuals to the state meet. Mike Berken and Marc Hunter competed in the pole vault and mile run in the state finals.

Records fell by the wayside as Mike Berken broke a county and school pole vault mark by leaping 14 feet and Hunter set county and school records by running the mile in 4:15.1.

Dale Laux long jumped 21'3" for a school mark, and Jim Checkelsky set standards in the 100-yard dash and low hurdles.

In the process of doing away with dual meets and participating in more invitationals, Coach Bob Joos anxiously looked forward to next year.

Ross paces freshmen through exciting year

The 1974 freshman track squad had an outstanding season, finishing 4-2 under coach Paul Schroeder. Dave Ross led the team throughout the season and set two records in the 100 and 200 yard dashes. Mark Leasure, Rick Monroe, Kerry Hunter, Bill Costner, and Jim Bator followed Ross in the point production for the year. The highlight of the season was first place finish in the Cloverleaf Invitational.

Devilettes need more experience

Miss Margaret Fletcher will have a full returning track squad to pilot next year, as every member of the team was an underclassman. The squad definately needed a year of experience and promises to be much better in the upcoming season. Sophomore Barb Szlag, along with freshman Monica Dorfner provided the biggest spark for the team.

BHS season ends 12-12, records topple

The 1974 varsity baseball season was a year for rebuilding. The team ended its campaign with a respectable 12-12 record with Coach Linn Oring's line-up studded with juniors. Pete Pasko, Jim Clift, Allen Young and Jim Gillespie were the only senior starters.

Rod Edmunds, a junior, set a single season homerun mark as he clouted seven roundtrippers. Juniors Jim Vasarhelyi, Greg Toler and Tony Stabile gave diamond foes trouble with their timely hitting and pitching.

Vasarhelyi set a single season hitting record and Terry Silkey was given more free trips to first base than any BHS player in history.

Team play brings victories

The 1974 junior varsity baseball squad had one of its best seasons in its history. Led by the brilliant combination of sophomores and freshmen, the team put together an 8-5 mark. Coach Wally Rogers's squad had injuries throughout the season, but still managed to accomplish a winning season. Jack Wentz was the leading all-around hitter, as Scott Erwin hurled the finest. Freshman Mike Frantz batted .433 to lead in that category.

Power hitting sisters make Devilettes winners

The 1974 Devilette softball team came up with another fine season. Under Mrs. Judy Kirsch, the field manager, they finished with a 6-3 record with a team that displayed both good power and all-round play. The roster included some sister combinations that were the force behind the team. The Wiseman's, Mari and Anita, combined for a record hitting eight homeruns. Patty and Debby Morris contributed a fine defense and tough pitching. Pitching from Carol Grandinetti and the fielding of Cheryl Patrick and Cindy Ficyk were major factors for the team's success.

Cheerleaders shape BHS spirit

The 1973-74 cheerleaders led the athletic teams throughout the year with their high spirits. To go along with their usual routines, the cheerleading squads hosted several clinics for interested youngsters and attended a camp during the summer. The squads brought back ribbons and a spirit stick for their performances.

Miss Blue Devil was Debbie Varshall. Other seniors were Patti Chaky, Kathy Chester, Anne Waugaman, and Marcy Faler.

Homecoming, 1973.

Homecoming weekend began on Friday, Nov. 2, with a pep rally announcing the queen and her court. That evening the court was presented to the fans at the game, and the winning float was announced. The freshmen won with "Freshmen Pour It On."

Even a continuous downpour could not dampen the fans' spirit and enthusiasm as they watched the Blue Devils trounce West Holmes, 27-7.

The dance, "Harvest of Yesterday," began at 8 p.m. in an autumn scene. Tables surrounded the dance floor and candles provided a quiet touch to the decorations.

At nine o'clock the court was presented and Queen Martha Kouyoumdjian and co-captain Gerry Patrick led the court dance to "Yesterday."

Co-captains John Kane and Keith Davey escorted senior attendants Sue Hornberger and Cindi Kriak. Lance Pierce and Rick Andrews accompanied juniors Kathy Lonero and Cheryl Patrick. Sophomore Anne Kouyoumdjian was escorted by Bill Marks, and Jodi Faler, freshman, was escorted by Bill Kostner.

Organization

'Shrew' tamed at BHS

In 1973 it was Billie Jean King vs. Bobby Riggs, but in 1600 it was Petrucio vs. Katherina.

The conflict between the sexes made a delightful comedy for BHS's first Shakespearean production, "The Taming of the Shrew," on November 15 and 16.

Also presented was "When Shakespeares's Ladies Meet." In this one-act comedy, six of Shakespeare's heroines meet at Juliet's home in Verona.

Shakespeare's ladies were: Sue Hornberger as Juliet; Debby Wolford—Ophelia; Cindy M. Adams—Katherina; Charlene Murphy—Desdemona; and Mari Wiseman—Cleopatra.

Keith Davey and Lori Donahue directed "When Shakespeare's Ladies Meet."

Spirit, service move BHS onward

A club devoted to community service, the BHS Key Club was elected the 1974 Best Service Award by the Brunswick Jaycees. In order to raise money for the youth center, the Key Club teeter-tottered for 318 consecutive hours, breaking the world's record. Among their other activities, the Key Club sponsored the rock band, "Life Inc.," the heart fund queen contest and collected food for needy families.

The Pep Club, in addition to cheering at all the games and making spirit signs, helped raise money for the athletic department.

The Girls' Athletic Association gave girls an opportunity to participate in athletic events.

New clothes are no clothes for vain king

Elementary students this year were surprised at the sight of a king in his underwear when BHS students presented the children's play, "The Emperor's New Clothes."

The story deals with a king whose clothes mean more to him than his kingdom. To solve this dilemma, Han, the minister of robes, hires two weavers, Zar and Zan, from a faraway land to weave invisible clothes for the emperor.

The play, directed by Mr. Howard Cook, was presented at the five elementary schools on February 12, 14 and 19, 1974.

A promising future lies ahead

Preparing themselves for future careers, Junior and Senior IOE spent about three hours a day in office-like surroundings. The girls learned the qualifications of an experienced secretary.

Future teachers helped teachers at Towslee Elementary School and attended field trips.

Future Homemakers served the delicacies at Brunswick Sports Banquets. This year, dressed as tiny elfs, they helped out with the Christmas House of Hope, bringing entertainment to the young ones.

Future Health and Medical Careers members attended field trips to surrounding hospitals. The club was concerned with exploring fields of health and medical careers.

Work programs open doors to future

OWA, a young working class trained for the responsibility of jobs, was taught a half day of basic education and a half day was spent working at different jobs such as service stations, restaurants and department stores.

OWE members spent their afternoons working at the job of their choice. Most of these students are experienced and trained in a specific field or trade.

Each year, OWE members sponsor a banquet for their employers.

The vocational jobs of DCT class members vary from a brick layer to a nurse's aide. Each year an annual banquet of appreciation was given to employers.

DECA, (DE) seniors spent their mornings exposed to training in the world of sales and marketing, and their afternoons working at jobs in these fields.

Your grievances lie within

November 2, 1973, brought a walkout by 150 students who voiced opinions on aspects of school life.

Consisting of one representative for every fifty people, the forty-one-member Student House promoted activities in the school and community. Under their direction, students walked for cystic fibrosis and muscular dystrophy, attended homecoming and a rock concert followed by "Free Fair."

The Student Senate, comprised of the class officers, interpretated school policies, such as final exams and smoking in the building.

The eight-member Student Court, interpreted the school constitution.

Chivalry at its best in "Camelot"

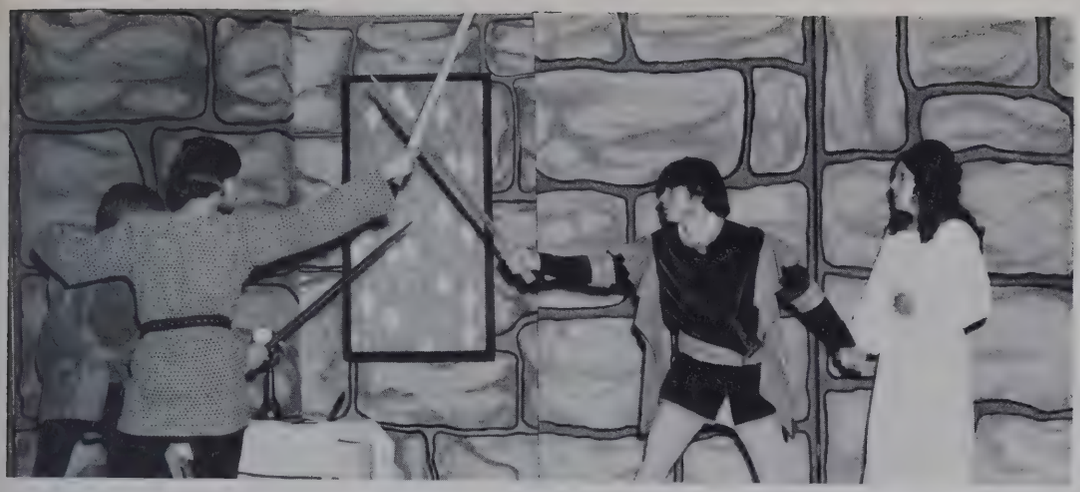
A switch from everyday doldrums came to BHS when the school and community had the opportunity to travel to the medieval ages and observe the knights in action.

The order of the round table, designed to right human wrongs, revolved around the love triangle between King Arthur, Queen Guenevere and a French knight, Lancelot.

"Camelot," Lerner and Loewe's Broadway musical, was presented March 8, 9, 15 and 16 by the combined drama and music departments as the fourth consecutive musical.

Mrs. Nancy Sprowls, Mr. Albert Sego and Mrs. Margaret Kiene directed the production. Student directors were Cheryl Eberhart, Steve Terrill and Nancy Trubachik.

Upper Left: "I loved you once in silence," sings Guenevere to Lancelot. Above: "Has anyone here seen a beast with the head of a serpent, body of a boar and the tail of a lion, baying like forty hounds?" questioned Pellimore. Upper Right: "You're the son of a wicked mother, Mordred, and I know you're up to to mischief," says Morgan Le Fey. Right: "Sure hope these flags don't fall on my head," thinks Lancelot after being invested as a knight of the round table.



Left: "If I escape, I will come and rescue you, Jenny. If I am killed, send word to Joyous Gard. Someone will come," says Lancelot. Middle: "Gee this is more fun than jump rope," says the maypole dancers. Bottom left: "I wonder what my people are doing tonight," ponders King Arthur.

Bursting sounds blare boldly

"One, two, ready play" were the words heard in room 202, 15th period everyday when the 115 piece BHS band practiced music ranging from Bach to rock.

The band's performances included the Christmas, pop, children's festival of bands and spring concerts. The band also participated in the Memorial day program, solo and ensemble contest and played for baccalureate and graduation.

During the ten week football season the 96 piece marching band practiced two weeks before school and every Thursday night from seven to nine for a seven minute half-time show at the games.

The pep band played for the basketball games and assemblies.

A new addition, the stage band, played music from the 30's and 40's at concerts and dances.

Lending a hand can mean so much.

Did time hang heavy for you in a day full of boring study halls? Well, why didn't you become an aide or leader?

"Spread out for exercises," shouted the gym leaders. We all groaned to the demands of those juniors and seniors who helped the gym teachers take attendance, lead calisthenics and demonstrate stunts.

Repairing, explaining and distributing equipment were the duties performed by the audio visual aides.

Ever tried to keep track of about ten thousand books? That was one of the duties performed by the library aides, who also signed books in and out.

Office Aides were appreciated by many people at BHS. Kept on their toes, office aides passed out attendance sheets, answered phones delivered messages and signed out early releases.

Jealousy plagues cast

George Bernard Shaw's "Passion, Poison and Pertifaction," an intended satire of the types of plays presented during the late 1800's, poked fun at the customs and traditions to the audience on April 5, 1974.

Directed by Bill Jindra, the play also was BHS's entry in the Ohio High School Speech League Association contest.

Science fiction drama chosen for competition

Directed by Pam Tomko, the performance of "A Visit to a Small Planet" on May 2, 1974 was this years Chippewa Conference play.

The quiet, bored Spelding family was flabergasted at a surprise visit from a spaceman who uses the earth as his play toy as he tries to take over the world.

Knowledge is the way to accomplishment

National Honor Society members were selected according to four basic qualities: scholarship, service, character and leadership. Designated by yellow cords worn around their necks, NHS members have the honor of being the first to graduate.

Thespians, an honorary group of students who excel in the dramatic arts, received points for work done on each performance. After aquiring ten points, students were initiated into Thespians.

Lettermen in the four varsity sports were initiated into the Varsity Club through painted faces and arms and wearing an onion around their necks before eating it.

Writing, acting, art expresses creativity

A unique world—the theater has a mystery all its own just waiting to be discovered as many BHS drama club members learned. Whether their duties involved acting or working backstage, drama club members slaved to make the shows run smoothly.

Did you miss out on activities because you didn't know about them? Then why didn't you find out what went on by reading the Devilier? No matter what your interest, for 15¢ an issue, once a month, you could find it in the Devilier.

Now that you've seen it, the yearbook means something, doesn't it. It didn't back on that October day when you spent your last dollar for something you maybe didn't believe in. The 21 member Trident staff thought of this moment when it helped preserve for you some of your fondest memories.

The Life and Death of Sneaky Fitch

Presented by BHS drama department
Place: Gopher Gulch, Out West
Director: Mr. Howard Cook

May 9 and 10, 1974
Time: Once upon a time
Student Director: Karen Pezzuti

Act I: Despised by townspeople, Sneaky Fitch defies the "Code of the West" in his role of the town drunk.
Act II: The town's feelings change from despite to fear when Sneaky becomes immortal by rising from the dead.
Act III: His prestiege is ruined when it becomes apparent he was happier a coward and that his death was a hoax.

Top: "You say Sneaky's sick? Well, I guess I'll mosey on down there," says Doc. Burch. Upper Right: "Ah, Sneaky, honey," whispers Maroon. Above: The singers entertained the audience with their narration in song form. Right: "Guess we'll need a new sheriff," says townsman, Glenn Gloeckl.

Students elect music, art, driver's ed to develop skills

With 56,000 deaths on the highways yearly, driver's education became one of the most important courses BHS offered. Mr. Carl Becks, Mr. Charles Reisland, and Mr. Charles Piro taught the students safe driving techniques, the proper operation of a car, and the laws all drivers must obey.

Man does not live by books alone; he needs music and art.

The BHS art and music departments encouraged students to fulfill those talents through drawing, sculpturing, painting and through singing and playing musical instruments.

Young artists entered the scholastic art show in Akron, students vocalists competed in the state music contest last spring, and the musicians held its first school-wide ensemble contest.

Break it, fix it, make it—students learn by doing

Have you been in a big room with huge strange machines? If so, did you wonder why it was there, what they do, and who runs them? BHS industrial arts classes use the machines to make furniture, repair machines and make tools, such as a strap clamp, wrench assembly, drill rod, tool maker, tap wrench, and cold-rod steel.

Students bring in their old beat up cars and fix them in class. They learn the art of doing minor repairs, changing tires, and tune-ups.

Gym, OWE, DCT aid students

Physical education and work programs offered students the chance to compete in sports and on the job.

OWE, OWA, DECA, and DCT provided worthwhile work experiences to students as local businesses helped train these young people on the job.

Physical education helped students develop coordination, a knowledge of sport, and the rules of good sportsmanship. Jumping jacks, knee bends, sit-ups, and active participation in the games showed students the value of a sound body.

English students film movie, select courses

The American Dream, Romeo and Juliet, mini courses in creative writing, poetry, and the American frontier, Julius Caesar, TV, radio, and creative communications were just a few of the English program's offerings for the students to sweat over, learn about, and even enjoy.

Junior American Studies students turned movie directors as they filmed what it's like to be a junior in Brunswick. Based upon a questionnaire given to their classmates, teachers, parents, and city officials, the juniors compiled reactions to politics, sex, grades, and every day high school pressures.

English provided students with leisure time activities

"Get rid of the passive voice!"

"Who killed Caesar?"

"In the book, A Separate Peace, two boys attend . . ."

Reading, writing, and more reading and writing occupied the minds and bodies of English students from grades nine through twelve. If it wasn't Caesar, it was Charles Darnay. If it wasn't Frost, it was Sandburg. If it wasn't the wrong verb, it was a trite figure of speech.

But was it that bad?

When you sit down now and the television is broken and the car has no gas, what are you going to do?

"In Farenheit 451, Ray Bradbury shows us what it would be like to live in a world that burned books."

Try reading and cooking in your favorite language

Parlez vous Francis? Sprecken Sie Deutch? Something in Latin?

Language students at BHS not only learned the foreign language but also the history and customs of France, Germany and the Latin countries. Students acted out memorized skits, wrote Christmas cards in their foreign languages and, of course, learned about nouns, adjectives and verb forms!

The home economics department not only taught sewing and cooking but also had the students take an in-depth look at themselves and the lives they will lead. The family living course helped students orient themselves to a new kind of life.

In addition, fixing washing machines and broken radios will no longer be left entirely to the men. Girls in a fix-n-furnish course learned the difference between a wrench and a screwdriver.

Students experiment in a world of science

To keep up with today's scientific achievements, such as Space Lab and Pioneer 10, Brunswick High's science teachers helped students to understand these new findings as well as grasp old world wisdom.

Around the lab and in the classroom, students learned through experiments and discussions. Ever see Mr. Samolis riding down the hall in a little red wagon? New form of transportation? No. Just an experiment in motion, speed and force.

In addition, the annual science fair held in the cafetorium brought out projects on everything from crystals to ferns. Here was the student's opportunity to show off what he knew about science.

History tackles the past, present and future issues

Shortages! A shortage of energy. Of toilet paper. Of gasoline. But will we ever have a shortage of history?

From Neanderthal man and F.D.R., students in world and American history learned how man survived the ravages of his society.

Through skits and projects, Miss Linn Sommerfeld's students brought Roman customs and lifestyles into the classroom in order to see first hand what made a Roman tick.

Room 323 became the conniving Congress of Vienna as Mr. Tim Lance's world history and European history classes argued and schemed for more land and power in Europe.

And government classes worked to solve an old problem and a current headache—the income tax.

Counselors and custodians help keep BHS going

The BHS custodial staff not only kept the school in working order but also kept the halls shining.

Even with the meat shortage and bread prices, the cafeteria still managed to turn out a 50c lunch.

The librarians worked continously, keeping the books in order and the teaching machines in top shape for the students.

And did you want to drop a class? The guidance department's six counselors helped students plan their schedules and futures.

Mathematics students enter consumer's world

Story problems were still impossible to set up, let alone solve.

And an 8 ounce jar of peanut butter at 55c was a better buy than a 12 ounce jar at 89c.

Math became more useful, practical and necessary in 1974. With the gradual change to the metric system and the then current gas shortage, math saved consumers dollars and made them aware of how good a buy a product really was. Consumer mathematics, the department's newest course, dealt with problems that previously had been ignored.

Even so, if a + b = c + b, then c + a = b + c.

Administrative staff adds unit principal, deans

To assist Mr. C. R. Huston, BHS principal, three adminstrators were added to the staff last year. Mr. Desmond Brannan became the Dean of Boys; Miss Nancy Young was the Dean of Girls; and Mr. Dominic DiIorio was a unit principal along with Mr. Robert Amor.

Mr. DiIorio was in charge of student problems, such as class cuts and smoking in school. Miss Young and Mr. Brannan worked with Mr. DiIorio and student misbehavior.

Without the secretaries in the main office, the administration, teachers, and students would never have been able to function as well as they did. Mrs. Stieger, Mrs. Ficyk, and Mrs. Mortelette handled routine problems and minor crises with ease and efficiency.

There have been so many yesterdays and there will be so many tomorrows. The year we've spent at BHS has been made up of quiet talks with friends and hurrying through crowded noisy halls. It's been the excitement we've felt when the winning basket goes in at the buzzer and when we missed the first down by an inch. It's dances and parties, and sitting home some nights by yourself. It's laughing over old first grade pictures, and looking forward to graduation. Yesterday is the long hard practices, and the fun, crazy things we find to do.

It's the 1973-74 yearbook staff's wish that you'll be able to remember the yesterdays held in the pages of the Trident. The old is shown with the new in expressing "Yesterday Once More."

The 1974 Trident used Times Roman type printed on Patina paper.

Paragon Press of Montgomery, Alabama, printed 750 copies.
